ANTI-M'KINLEY

TALK OF A $1,000,000 FUND TO After visiting Palon, formerly a city of 50, BUY DELEGATES.

HOW IT IS TO BE WORKED.

The Money Said to Be in St. Louis Banks Subject to Check by Lobbyists.

If money can talk, Maj. McKinley's bright Presidential expectations seem destined to disappointment, for, according to prevalent gossip, the opposition to his nomination is not only concentrating their forces, but are piling up their dollars to defeat the high not only concentrating their forces, but are pilling up their dollars to defeat the high tariff apostle.

While McKinley is feeling satisfied and his supporters are confident of his success, the other side is working like a colony of beavers and plans have been formulated to place $1,000,000$ in St. Louis banks, to be used in carrying the convention for an Eastern man, presumably Morton. This money is to be at the disposal of several shrewd lobbyists of long experience in political wire pulling. One of them has been quietly watching the tide of affairs from St. Louis for several days, while the others are doing missionary work in Washington and New York.

The anti-McKinley lobby, it is said, will be well organized and money will be freely used to accomplish his defeat.

'If we can only prevent his (McKinley's) nomination on the first ballot we are all right.' said one of the lobbyists to a friend at the Laclede Hotel.

In detailing the plans the information leaked out that various delegates were to be approached and "sounded" as to their sentiments on the financial question. If they are strong in their anti-silver feelings they are to be persuaded that McKinley is an unsafe man to nominate because of his leaning toward bimetallism, and his letter, written six years ago, during one of his Congressional campaigns, is to be used as proof of his "unsoundness."

If the delegates are open to argument they are to be wined and dined and when the the delegates are open to argument they are to be wined and dined and when the the delegates are open to argument they are to be wined and dined and when the the delegates are open to argument they are to be wined and dined and when the the delegates are open to argument they are to be wined and dined and when the the delegates are open to argument they are to be wined and dined and when the them they are to be wined and dined and when the them they are to be wined and dined and when the them they are to be wined and dined and when the them they are to be wined and dined and wh

Johnson last-ed but three good thing by voting for homebody else why they should not do so? How will Mc-Kinley benefit them more than any other man? If they vote right they can get a benefit during the convention and they will be remembered afterward, too, if the man for whom they vote is elected."

That is the way the lobbyists look at it, and that is the way many delegates are expected to be induced to regard it when the critical moment arrives.

Mr. Platt, who is commanding the Morton forces, is supposed so be the general underwhose directions this fight on the lines indicated is to be carried on, but no mention of his name is ever heard among the cautious kings of the lobby. His subordinates have their orders and they will direct the fight in the lobby, and in this convention the lobby means the various St. Louis hotel corridors, restaurants, wine rooms and other places of feasting, feasivity and business. The lobby's work will begin when the National Committee meets here next Wednesday, and the first steps will then be taken that will lead to the unseating of some of the McKinley men in favor of contesting delegates.

The anti-McKinley men seem to have their forces well organized and their plans well laid.

tne Precious Metals," "Discrediting Silver and Enhancing Gold."

NEW YORK, June 6.-Not satisfied with his sensational communication from Canton, O., to The World, James Creelman, the special staff correspondent, has fol-lowed up the attack in to-day's World. He declares that the McKinley free silver letter which he unearthed and made public has had a bombshell effect in Ohio. But he now gives us a McKinley free silver speech, which was delivered four months and a half after the penning of the letter to the State League of Republican Clubs at Toledo, O. He quotes the follow-ing words of McKinley on that occasion

Clubs at Toledo, O. He quotes the following words of McKinley on that occasion from the verbatim reports of the Toledo Blade, a strong McKinley paper:

"The gentleman (cleveland) who is now so insistent for cheap necessaries of life while in office and clothed with authority was unwilling that sugar, an article of prime necessity to every household, should come untaxed to the American people when it was known it was an annual burden upon them of $80,000,000. He stood then as the uncompromising friend of dear sugar for the masses.

"During all his years at the head of the Government he was dishonoring one of the precious metals—one of our own great products—discrediting silver and enhancing the price of gold. He endeavored, even before his inauguration to office, to stop the coinage of silver dollars and afterwards, to the end of his administration, persistently used his power to that end. He determined to contract the circulating medium and demonetize one of the colns of commerce, limit the volume of money among the people, make money scarce and therefore dear. He would have increased the value of everything its slave. He was not thinking of the poor then. He had left their side. He was not visualing forth in their defense; cheap coats, cheap labor and dear money; the sponsor and promoter of inese professing to stand guard over the welfare of the poor and lowly.

sponsor and promoter or inese professing to stand guard over the welfare of the poor and lowly.

"Was there ever more glaring inconsistency or reckless assumption? The tariff reformer has at last, in his wild ecatacy over a so-called victory, been betrayed into an avowal of his real design. He believes that prosperity is a blessing to be promoted and encouraged, and that a shrinkage in the value of everything but money is a natural benefacilon. He no longer conceals his love for cheap merchandise, even though it entails the beating down of the price of labor and curtails the comforts and opportunities of the masses."

In conclusion Mr. Creelman says: "There you have McKinley's monetary views again, delivered with the greatest care before a great representative body of Republicans, a little more than four months after he pledged himself in writing to the Farmers' Alliance for free silver."

CONVENTION PIE.

Shall De Ole Man Be Allowed to Stick His Finger In It?

Arms. R. C. Kerens is one of these gentlemen and he will be on hand when Col. Byrnes brings up the matter of convention offices at next Wednesday's meeting.

Col. Kerens may not attempt to dictate to the Minnesota Colonel, but it is not unlikely that he will have large quantities of suggestions to offer as to the Missourians worthy the distinction of wearing badges and displaying authority in the convention hall. It is not at all probable that Col. Byrnes will turn a deaf ear to the suggestions of the Missouri committeeman, and in the end the sage of Beaumont street, who has swept everything before him thus far, will hear and feel a thud in the immediate vicinity of the carotid artery.

After the events of the St. Joseph convention it is scarcely logical to believe that Col. Kerens will allow Mr. Filley to reward his lieutenants with convention offices for the services rendered there. Mr. Kerens is not considered possessed of all that magnanimity and Col. Byrnes will hardly flycontrary to the wishes of the present Missouri committeeman.

nanimity and Col. Byrnes will hardly fly contrary to the wishes of the present Missouri committeeman.

This state of affairs has brought forth the prediction that there will be a clash, but Col. Byrnes only smiles when the possibility of such an unpleasantness is suggested. When asked how many convention tickets Mr. Filley would receive, the Sergeant-at-Arms promptly answered: "Two besides his own." This is the allowance of each delegate under the action of the subcommittee, while each National Committee, man gets twenty-five. So it looks like the Csar of the party in Missouri will be hit hard both as to tickets and offices.

Meanwhile Col. Byrnes is not saying much and Filley is eagerly waiting to see if it is the purpose to eliminate his friends from the McKinley ratification meeting. Though he is not spending much time at the Southern, where Col. Byrnes is now holding forth, the Pooh-Bah of Beaumont and Chestnut streets is keeping a close watch on what goes on there. His agents are frequent visitors and the rotund figure of Julius Weirzburger surmounted by a Filley hat is very much in evidence in the hotel corridors. It seems to be pretty generally understood that there will be some lurid expressions beafd at 1700 Chestnut street when the offices and tickets are passed around.

"The committee will give all sides a fair hearing and Gen. Grosvenor and myself will look after Maj. McKinley's interests. Any work that would be attempted would be for a combination against McKinley and not for any particular candidate. It is McKinley against the field, and with about 600 delegates instructed it is very difficult to see how anyone can doubt Maj. McKinley's triumphant nomination."

Regarding the New York delegation, Judge Thompson said: "I have not kept very close track of the delegates there, but McKinley will get at least ten out of the seventy-two votes. The work of the Committee on Credentials may be greatly simplified by the National Committee in making up the roll for the temporary organization. If the action on the contests gives general satisfaction they may not be fought out again before the Credentials Committee."

The list of contests is being prepared for the committee and there will be more leaders to discuss them than the committee may care to hear. Those attracting the most attention are in the Texas, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippl, New York and Delaware delegations.

Kerens-Filley Squabble in the Nation-

The Twelfth District contest to be fought out before the committee next week is receiving much attention from the city politicians. The National Committee will decide which deligation will go on the roll and the Credentials Committee will determine the dispute finally.

This contest grew out of the split in the Congressional District Committee between the Filleyites and Kerensites, resulting in the organization of two committees. The Filley delegates are Charles Parsons and Councilman Frederick G. Uthoff. Nathan Frank and Charles D. Comfort are the contestants. This is the only contest that will go before the committee from this State, but as 500 or more politicians are interested a lively discussion may be anticipated. out before the committee next week is repated.

THE INDIANA SITUATION.

Populists in That State and in the Nation Will Support a Democrat in a 16 to 1 Campaign.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 6.—Nearly every day that passes goes farther to prove the statement made in these dispatches three weeks ago that the Populists of Indiana would support the Democratic ticket if the Chicago Convention declared for free silver and nominated an avowed free silver condition.

if the Chicago Convention declared for free silver and nominated an avowed free silver candidate.

The leading free silver Democrats in Indiana have assurances that there is to be "a long pull, a strong pull, and a pull all together" for free silver this year, and they interpret this to mean that the two national organizations billed for conventions in St. Louis July 22 will make haste to indorse the Chicago platform in case it is a square declaration for the independent coinage of silver.

Chairman Taubeneck of the Populist National Committee is represented as being opposed to the scheme to have the party indorse the Chicago platform, but the leading representatives of the party here say that the chairman is simply blind to what is coming. The free silver managers have figured out that 75 per cent of the Populists in the State were formerly in the Democratic party and left because they could not indorse its position on the money question. Free silver Democratic party and left because they could not indorse its position on the money question. Free silver Democrate estimate shat the adoption of a free silver platform in the State means the return to the party of about 18,000 men who have been voting the Populist ticket.

The Hon. Charles W. Cooper presided last night at the free silver meeting at English's Opera House. The theater was filled with an enthusiastic crowd of the friends of the white metal, with a sprinkling of gold men, who were apparently depressed on account of the difference between gold and silver enthusiasm in Indiana. B. F. Shively of South Bend and John G. Shanklin of Evansville, who arrived in the city during the afternoon, both delivered stirring speeches containing vigorous and convincing arguments in favor of the restoration of silver as a money metal. The meeting was the most notable political gathering that has been held here this year.

THE COLISEUM.

Where the National Democratic Convention Will Be Held.

CHICAGO, June 6.—Everything is now in readiness at the Collseum for the National ferring with the Democrats, who agree with them that there is but one issue in the coming campaign. There is a distinct understanding between the silver Republicans and the silver Democrats of the Senate as to the course that shall be pursued by the former at the St. Louis convention.

One of the most prominent and active silver Republicans of the Senate as it tonight: "We do not intend that the St. Louis convention shall straddle the silver question if our votes can prevent it. We estimate that we shall have at least ten members of the Committee on Resolutions. We will offer a resolution for free coinage at the ratio of 16 to 1. Of course that will be rejected. Then the faction favoring a compromise or a 'straddle' will come in with their propositions.

"The Eastern States will submit their gold standard plank. When our free coinage plank shall have been rejected, we will throw our votes to the gold men for the purpose of absolutely committing the Republican party to the gold standard. Then we will go into the convention and protest against both the gold and the straddle platform. One or the other will be adopted, for a blind man can see that the 16 to 1 ratio will have no chance.

"After the adoption of either the gold or the straddle plank, we will withdraw from the convention and wait to see what the Democratic convention at Chicago will do. If they declare for free coinage, as we believe they will, why then we will join them and make the fight for the supremacy of the white metal.

The proposition of the Bell Telephone Co. to institute a telephone system in Convention, Hall, by which each State delegation would be connected with the chairman's desk, has been abandoned. G. F. Durant, general manager of the company, offered to wire the hall free of expense and was enthusiastic over the convenience of such an arrangement and its possibilities of preventing confusion.

W. H. Thompson of the Committee on Hall says that the members of the Republican National Committee with whom he conferred differed in opinion from Mr. Durant. They believed that instead of expediting the transaction of the business of the convention the telephones would not be patronized by the chairman who should use them and would be generally used for private conversation, distracting the attention of delegates and creating confusion, instead of lessening it.

As the National Committee took this position, the Hall Committee did not feel justified in forcing an undesirable experiment upon the convention.

to-day efter an absence of Awo days and announced his signature to a number of bills, including the deficiency appropriation and the filled cheese bills.

Among the favorable reports was one from the Library Committee for a peace monument at Appommatox, Va., at the point where Grant and Lee met.

Mr. Allison (Rep.) of Iowa reported a partial agreement of the Sundry civil appropriation bill. He explained that a number of items were still open, including those for new public buildings at Salt Lake City and at the Capitais of the new States of Idaho, Wyoming and Montana and additions for the public buildings at Kansas City. Savannah, Ga., and Camden, N. J. At the last named cities he said the buildings were near completion, but work could not go on unless small additional appropriations were made. But the House conferces positively refused, said Mr. Allison, to assent it to any public buildings ftems.

The Senate amendment of $35,000 for participation in the Brussels Exposition next year was also resisted by the House, although the State Department regarded it as most desirable that his Government take part in the event. Mr. Allison says these and other items were of such importance to large interests that the Senate conferces did not feel justified in abandoning them.

Mr. Dubois made a vigorous plea for public buildings at the new capitals. He said that it was notorious that the Speaker of the House and the Chairman of the House Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds declined to approve any new bubblic buildings. And yet, said Mr. Dubois, Speaker Reed resided in a place with 53,000 people with a public building costing $1,159,000. The district represented by Chairman Milliken of Maine, of the House Committee on Public Buildings, had Federal buildings in five towns.

of Maine, of the House Committee on Public Buildings, had Federal buildings in five towns.

Mr. Dubois gave in some detail the Maine towns that have public buildings. No doubt, he said, there was no need of further public buildings in Maine. The chairman of the House Committee lived in a town which would not make a suburb of one of these Western capitals. The county seats in some of these new States were larger than any town in the district represented by these gentlemen (Reed and Milliken.)

Mr. Vest (D.) of Missouri said it was an established policy to give the new States a public building at their capital.

Mr. Platt (R.) of Connecticut thought the Senate should take a firm stand in insisting on all proper improvements. This Government was not going into bankruptey. After all the talk there was a good deal of money in the Treasury, perhaps improperly raised, by bonds, but nevertheless there.

Mr. Platt said it would be a queer policy by an individual to borrow money, put it in his pocked and refuse to pay a note when it was due, but this appeared to be in line with the policy of borrowing money on bonds and holding onto it until the bonds became due thirty years hence.

After further debate in favor of the need of Federal building, the Senate conferees were instructed to insist on all the public building items. To emphasize the insistence a yea and nay vote was taken, resulting 58 to nothing.

WILL CLOSE UP RELIEF BRANCHES

AFTER SATURDAY THE WORK WILL BE ALONG OTHER LINES.

MUST BE MORE PERMANENT.

Appeals Being Made for More My ey as Only One-Half the Requisite Amount Has Been Raised.

It was decided at a meeting of the Merchants' Exchange Relief Committee and the chairmen of the sub-stations Saturday afrnoon to close the district relief stations rmanently Saturday afternoon.

permanently Saturday afternoon.

The work of relief will be continued by the central organization. The stricken district will be divided into small territories for a complete house to house canvass.

The St. Vincent de Paul stations may be continued, but independently.

Even with the district stations closed much will remain to be done in the work of relief. Perhaps the most important and extensive part of the work is to come. The district stations have served to provide for the immediate wants of the sufferers.

Applicants have been given food and clothing, perhaps enough to last them two weeks. When the needy families have exhausted these supplies, it will be necessary to furnish them with more and in many cases to carry them for several monts.

Mr. Walter Vrooman, in charge of relief headquarters in room 420 Merchants' Exchange Building, estimates that there will be 2,500 families to be maintained by the Relief Committee. They have been furnished with provisions to the extent of about 34 each. It is thought that at least $25 twill be necessary for each family. This will alone require $62,500 additional to what has already been used.

In addition to cash expenditures, estimated by Dr. W. W. Boyd-at $35,000, there are a large number of outstanding orders issued from the district stations, especially from that in charge of the United Hebrew Society. It is thought that $15,000 will cover all these orders. If these estimates are cofrect, the relief fund will have been diminished by $50,000 when the outstanding orders have been paid.

In addition to the families which will have to be carried until supported by their own resources, there is another class of Inverse the widows and aged, whose every source of revenue has been swept away by the tornado.

The heads of the various district stations are agreed upon the necessity for as much money as can be placed at their disposal. It had been considered by the Merchants' Exchange Executive Committee that something would remain of the general relief fund after the relief work had been accomplished.

fund after the relief work had been accomplished.

On the contrary it is the belief of those coming in direct contact with the sufferers that every cent of the almost $200,000 raised by Friday evening, will be expended in relieving the actual wants of the sufferers.

In view of this situation the General Executive Committee, at the urgent instance of Dr. W. W. Boyd, issued Friday afternoon the following call:

"Citizens of St. Louis having so nobly and spontaneously undertaken to relieve the storm sufferers of our city, must apply renewed and enthusiastic efforts in this direction, for it is becoming more manifest each day that the appailing loss to property and consequent suffering could not be measured or even estimated immediately after the storm. That our citizens have been equal to the emergency, however, the very large subscriptions, to date testify; but with a full understanding of the situation it must be amount already contributed should be forthsubscriptions, to date testify; but with a full understanding of the situation it must be announced that at least double the amount already contributed should be forthcoming at once. While the present amount in sight is ample to take care of the immediate needs of those deprived of their all, a still further important necessity confronts us in the nature of material aid for the helpless for months to come. In view of this fact, our citizens are most earnestly requested to continue their contributions, and those who have not given to this most worthy cause are urgently and earnestly requested to do so. To be cognisant of the great privations and sufferings resulting from this, one of the most calamitory devastations that has ever been sent upon any community, should certainly the first of the most calamitory devastations that has ever been sent upon any community, should certainly the first of the most calemitering are suffered.

The number of applicants at headquarters and at sub-stations for relief from personal suffering was considerably diminished Saturday morning. In their places came persons anxious to take advantage of the efforts of the Emergency Loan Association. Those whose houses were damaged and were without means to repair them were apprised of an offer from a number of architects, made through C. C. Heimers, Jr., to inspect damaged buildings and advise owners as to repairs. A meeting of architects, has been called to arrange for this work.

BMERGENCY FUND.

Energetic Efforts Being Made to Ma-terially Increase It.

Six thousand circulars will have been sent out to prominent citizens and business houses by the Emergency Loan Fund Com-mittee by Saturday night. They call attention to the immediate need for subscrip to the fund in order that property ov who have suffered loss may be relieve tion to the immediate need for subscriptions to the fund in order that property owners who have suffered loss may be relieved at once.

Members of the committee in charge of the work believe that the responses to this circular will be immediate and heavy and that in less than ten days at the least $250,000 will be subscribed.

Copies of the plan and the appeal have been sent to every minister in the city with the request that he make the announcement Sunday from the pulpit with a strong personal appeal to members of the congregation to subscribe.

As yet there has been no canvass of any kind made for subscriptions, but up to Saturday noon the voluntary subscriptions amounted to $85,000. By Monday morning it is believed that $100,000 will be in.

It will be necessary to raise not less than $250,000, as present subscriptions have been taken on that condition. Less than that amount would not suffice to furnish relief to enough persons.

"As an incentive to subscriptions," said one of the committee to a Post-Dispatch reporter, "I will say that this fund will be managed on strict business principles. It is not the intention to lend money to people whose homes are already mortgaged to the full value. We will make no loans except where there is safe margin, and no loan will be made except to persons who can furnish evidence of good character and honesty. The money will be repaid to our association after the first interest at 4 per cent. This money will be deposited with some trust company, which will pay 3 per cent on current deposits and distributed among subscribers quarterly. We believe that the 4 per cent from the borrowers and the 3 per cent from the borrowers and the 3 per cent from the borrowers and the 3 per cent from the trust companies will recoup any losses that may occur and possibly may in the end pay a small interest on the loans made will be small, and in the neighborhood of $200 or $300, and none over $2,000. A month ago, on application of A. J. Kerfoot, a stockholder of the company, Judge also alleged that the road was being negligertly operated and was contracting debts

When Judge Wear granted Kerfoot's petition and appointed the ruceiver, Mr.

ASKS FOR AN EXTRA SESSION.

MAYOR WANTS THE GOVERNOR T) CONVENE THE LEGISLATURE.

HIS REASONS FOR SO DOING.

St. Louis Should Be Given the Right to Issue Bonds and Thus Baise Money for the Sufferers.

Mayor Walbridge has come to the con-clusion that the only way to meet the awful waste caused by the tornado is for the city to issue bonds and raise the money necessary to replace the damage to nutble money. he cay honey necessary to replace the damage to sublic property.

Recognizing the constitutional prohibition against the city issuing bonds to meet any emergency, he has called upon Gov. Stone to convene the General Assembly in extra session so that it will submit a constitutional amendment to the people to meet the tornado emergency. The letter which follows gives the Mayor's reasons for this appeal to the Governor:

collected and not frittered away in making places for barnacles in various departments."

There is a diversity of opinion as to the advisability of the Governor calling the Legislature together.

"I am heartily in favor of the Legislature being called in special session," said Festus J. Wade. "These various eleemosynary institutions which have been destroyed must be replaced at once, and we shall have to borrow money to do it. I certainly believe that the future generations should pay for the reconstruction of these buildings, just as we have paid for those which were destroyed. If we are going to issue bonds we must amend our constitution, and can only do so by calling the Legislature together in special session at once. The assessment for 1887 is based upon the property as the assessors find it in June, 1896. When they go down in the wrecked part of the city and find a building unroofed or a side wall gone they can do nothing else than call it so much debris, or perhaps they might call it building material. If there are 48,000,000 damage we will lose $160,000 in taxes. If you add to this fact the necessity of building the new institutions out of present taxes we simply won't be in it, that's all. It is unjust, too, to pile up any increase on the people who have been contending with and have survived the financial panic. It is work which our children should pay for."

W. H. Thompson. President National Bank of Commerce: I approve of the Mayor's plan for calling a special session of the Legislature. Our city institutions should be rebuilt at once and there is no other way by which it can be done unless we wait a long time. People who are sick cannot wait three years for a hospital to be built for them.

Thomas Booth, ex-President Merchants' Exchange. On first residing the Merchants' Exchange.

by which it can be done unless we wait a long time. People who are sick cannot wait three years for a hospital to be built for them.

Thomas Booth, ex-President Merchants' Exchange: On first reading the Mayor's call for a special session of the Legislature, I did not approve of the plan. Since ascertaining the great damage done to our public buildings I have changed my mind. Our city institutions must be rebuilt and we cannot do it unless we have a bond issue after a long delay. I should like to see the special session called.

F. W. Biebinger, President of the Fourth National Bank: I have always feit that the interdiction placed on the issuance of bonds by this city on the part of the State was ill advised. To develop a city it is as necessary to borrow money as it is in the case of a private business. In the face of a great calamity of this kind the Governor should not hesitate s moment in calling a special session of the Legislature. We must rebuild our city institutions.

C. W. Builen, President National Bank of the Republic: I agree with the Mayor that a special session of the Legislature should be called at once. Our city institutions must be rebuilt right away and there is no way to do the work except by a bond issue. A city should be allowed to build all the public institutions that it needs, and the best way to get them is by general taxation. Rev. John Snyder: I heartily approve cithe Mayor's idea of calling for a special session of the Legislature. Our financial condition is such that a bond issue is necessary and I trust that when made it will be large enough to make our city hospital a model in stitution of its kind. It has long been a reproach to our city. I would like to see a greand new buil ling and such a reorganization of the hospital as would make it not only a place for que sick to get well in, but also an educational feature for our young medical men.

Eyron Nugen, of B. Nugent & Bro.: I am strongly in favor of a bond issue to rebuild our city ins tutions, and if there is no way to de it b

George F. Haid, Deputy Clerk of the United States Court of Appeals: I suppose the Mayor knows what he is doing. I do not know whether the step is necessary or not. I take it that it is, else the Mayor would not have issued his proclamation.

CONSOLIDATION DENIED,

East St. Louis Island School District Can Go It Alone.

County Superintendent of Schools Charles Hertel of Belleville has decided to deny the petition presented to him asking for a

He gives as his reason for the refusal that the petition did not contain the requisite number of legal signatures and further that certain parts of the different districts had been cut off in a manner that would leave them without school accommodations.

The decision of Supt. Hertel is halled with delight by the residents of the Island District, who all along strenuously objected to a consolidation of their district with the city proper.

The fight for consolidation was commenced in April, when, according to law, a petition was placed before the two Boards of School trustees, asking for the consolidation. The Illinois City district had previously by a vote of the people refused to join District one, or the city proper, and when the petition was presented to the trustees of that district composed of Louis Gross, Amand Rustio and Jas. Lepage, they rejected it.

The other Board of Trustees, composed of Thomas Doyle, A. G. Schleuter and Joseph Dashney, favored the petition. This action necessitated an appeal to County Superintendent Charles Hertel, and he has decilined to order the consolidation for the reasons above stated.

The action of the County Superintendent Charles Hertel, and he has decilined to order the consolidation for the reasons above stated.

The action of the County Superintendent defeats the consolidation scheme for at least another year, as the Boards of Trustees can act on a petition of this kind at their annual meeting in April only.

Walbridge gives strong reasons why an extra session of the State Legislature should be called to empower the City of St. Louis to issue bonds in excess of the constitutional limitation, for the rebuildng of the public institutions destroyed or damaged by the tornado, and for other emergency purposes.

The Mayor points out that the interest on these additional bonds can be paid out of current city revenues, without any ncrease of taxation. This is perhaps the most convincing argument in favor of the bond issue. As a rule, the Post-Dispatch is opposed to incurring munici-pal indebtedness for public improvements that should be paid for as they are made. But in this case it would be an undoubted hardship to impose upon the people, who are already straining their means to repair the ravages and mitigate the suffering caused by the tornado, the additional cost of building or rebuilding public insticyclone. Much money is needed to relieve the district. Why not raise the money in the simplest, easiest and fairest way?

In view of the great calamity that has be fallen St. Louis, the people of the State will not begrudge the cost of a legisla tive session of one, two or three days.

The city of St. Louis should at once borrow $10,000,000 on bonds falling due in one or two years and provide for their payment by a special tax of two, three or five per cent on the value of every building lot within the city limits. At a low estimate there is here a taxable value of at least $200,000,000 and at 5 per cent the whole amount of bonds could be paid in one year and would enable the city to replace not only its own buildings, but every one destroyed or damaged.

By this plan neither labor nor business would be oppressed and the hardships of the disaster, being borne by so many, would be but lightly felt by each. True, the owners of the ground would lose their ground rent for one year but would have their rents from the improvements unimpaired.

The same reasoning that justifies the levying of a special tax on abutting property to pay for any public improvement, such as street, applies to this, for the rebuilding of all the destroyed and damaged buildings would be a greater public improvement and all the owners of city ground would be benefited.

If this plan were tried it would be found Would it not be practicable to accept of money offered from all sources to be put into to be loaned a city in distress, in turn to be loaned on long time to needy citizens or security or honor, asking as small a rate of interest as is necessary for the care of the fund. When paid back it might go into the general amount and the whole of it to draw interest until it is needed by some other interest until it is needed by some other would give very freely, not knowing how soon it would come back to them.

Fred Jones, with 7:30 to his credit, should do some tall road riding. That big sprint should help him down the stretch.

Ross Miller held up his end with "Babe" Wilson, De Cardy and the rest of them in the Chicago road race, where he had only 1:00 handicap. With an additional 2:00 to help him he should do better to-day.

Capt. Gus Loeffel of the Cycling Club and Capt. J. W. Rodgers of the Centurys are both on the same mark—a.00. The duel between this pair should be interesting.

Chief of Checkers Morgan will have forty assistants. It will be hard to beat this lot out of a lap.

A new rule added last night is important to contestants. It is as follows: Any contestant dropping back a lap for the purpose of pacing or otherwise will be considered out of the race, and any contestant accepting such place will be disqualified from receiving a prize.

Century boys think that W. J. Rodgers will come very near winning the first place prize.

dent medical staff of the City Almshouse. The young sawbones were arrested upon

The young sawbones were arrested upon warrants charging them with having taken drugs to the value of $50 from the Almshouse store-room.

J. W. Terry, Superintendent of the Almshouse, says his suspicions were aroused three days after he assumed the office, on Nov. II. He began a still hunt on his own secount and about the middle of April was certain that the city's medical supplies were being used without authority by certain doctors resident on the island. A short time ago he felt so sure of his suspicions that he laid the matter before Dr. Charles E. Bruce, Superintendent of Physicians. Dr. Bruce made a formal demand for the drugs, after they had been positively lecated in the young men's trunks. The young men took their arrest very coolly, and declared that they believed they had done nothing wrong, it being the custom for members of the resident staff to appropriate such drugs as they wanted as a perquisite. Commissioner Croft took a different view of the case and decided that the city was not in the perquisite business. Mr. Terry says he believes the resident doctors have been helping themselves to medical supplies for years. The physicians were held in $500 each. It is said other arrests will follow.

The Exact Provision for This Portion

The Cunarder Passed Through a Murri-

QUEENSTOWN, June 6.—The Cunard Line steamship Umbria, Capt. Dutton, from New York on May 30, which arrived here at 6:50 this morning, had a rough passage, a strong southeast gale, accompanied by terrific seas, prevailing for the past few days. On June 2 the steamship passed through a hurricane, during which head seas swept her decks, and between June 3 and 4 she made only 355 knots, or about 100 knots below her average.

People who suffer from that annoying and obstinate disease will be gratfied to learn that science has discovered a safe, convenient and simple cure of every form of piles, as the experience of the popular Major Dean of Columbus, Ohio, amply attests. The Major says: I would like to add my name to the thousands who have been cured by the Fyramid Pile Cure. I know from experience that it is the only remedy on earth that will effectually cure piles; plenty of remedies give relief for a time, but as for a lasting cure I had tried all the salves, lotions, etc., without success. Six boxes of the Pyramid Pile Cure entirely removed all traces of a case of piles of forty years standing.

You may rest assured that the Pyramid Pile Cure has no stauncher advocate than myself.

I feel that it is my duty to allow you to use my name in any way you may see fit; in order that other sufferers may thus be directed to what Y eel certain will be a speedy relief and cure.

The Pyramid Pile Cure gives instant relief and a permanent cure in all kinds of blind, bleeding, itching piles.

It is absolutely free from opiates, cocaine and similar poisons, an common in pile cures.

How Statesman Cronin's Colored Factotum Surprised Chief Desmond.

Benjamin John Thomas Brady Waff, chief porter, grand flunkey and supervisor of the other negroes in the employ of Delegate Jim Cronin, called at the Four Courts Friday afternoon, said he was destitute and asked for a few suits of clothes and enough money to buy fine raiment for his wife. Waff is a big, able-bodied negro with a position paying him enough to live on. He wears a diamond stud in the bosom of his white shirt and patent leather shoes, and smokes 10-cent clgars.

Chief Desmond gasped in surprise, then reached for an ax. Benjamin fied before the temper of the steel could be tested on his cheek.

Officers. of the Big Companies Claim the Raise Is Necessary 'n Order to Make a Profit.

NEW YORK, June 6.—The Herald this norning says: What looks like a powder t is now in operation, backed by many ions of dollars and virtually controlled by three big manufacturing concerns, which will fix the price of that commodity. The three companies are the Laffin & Rand Pow-der Co., the Hazard Powder Co. and the Dopont-De Nemours Co., all of this city.

As a result of the combination the price of rifle powder or what is called sporting powder has advanced from $3.25 for a keg eighing twenty-five pounds to $4, while asting powder has advanced from $2 to $2.50 a keg. The schedule for other grades has been correspondingly advanced. The new order went into effect on June 1.

Although the officials of the companies

Although the officials of the companies yy there was no agreement between them, e fact that prices are advanced on the me day to the same figures might seem indicate otherwise. The Phoenix Powder Co. is one of the set of the twenty smaller companies to irrender to the big concerns. The Phoe-ix was named as the next largest com-any to those that have advanced prices, as stock is almost entirely owned by the affin & Rand Co., and its present offi-press are to be replaced by others named by iat company. at company.
The treasurer, George S. Van Wickle, id the transfer had taken place at the dof May, and gave as a reason that the mpany could not stand out against the ambination of the three larger compancombination of the three larger companies.

"We have had all we could do to make ends meet since the company was organized in 1883," he said, "and this latest move of the trust has been too much for us."

The other officials were reticent about the matter of a trust having been formed, but talked freely of the advance in the prices of powder. They professed to having been losing money for the last three or four years owing to a falling off in prices. The treasurer of the Hazard Company said: "This company, which is one of the largest, has been doing a business of many millions a year, but has been running at a loss for some time and decided to raise prices."

J. A. Haskell, President of the Laffin & Rand Co., said, in effect, the same thing and that now the company proposed to manufacture powder at a profit.

"We have several million dollars investing," and the price."

"Do not these three companies practically control the output?"
"Yes, practically; that is about so," he re-"I don't think they will very long," he re

CONTRADICTORY STORIES.

The Neighbors Very Much Excited and for a While Dire Threats Were Made.

Henry Stein, a pale, blond young fellow Henry Stein, a pale, blond young fellow of cruel proclivities, will not be tried for murder on account of the death of his 5-months old child, because Coroner Campbell of East St. Louis and a jury decided Saturday morning that the little one died of intermittent fever.

But this verdict will not let Stein out of the East St. Louis Jail, for he was arrested on Friday evening for his harsh treatment of his child and he must answer to that charge.

Coroner Campbell made a post mortem examination of the infant girl Saturday morning to learn whether it had not met a violent death, as it was alleged, at the hands of its cruel father. Dr. Campbell found no marks on the body, and then he empaneled a jury to hold an inquest. The investigation took place in the house of the Steins, at Fisk and Galveston avenues.

And, thinking of her eyes of blue
And tender glances sweet and true,

A saucy breeze that chanced to stray Along that fragrant garden way Swept back her wavy golden hair, Surprised to see a maid so fair. And sighed for love such charms to view. I followed suit—pray, wouldn't you?

There was a perfect bouquet of bull pyrotechnics exploded under the market this moming and the result was one of the liveliest and most excited openings seen in a long time. First among the bull influences was the sensational Kansas State report that made condition of winter wheat 69, a reduction of 28 points since May 1. Few there were who believed this, but it scared the shorts badly and spurred the longs on in their efforts to put up prices. There were also 3,000,000 bu supports for the week from this country, the largest since last January, and only 224,000 bu from the Argentine, almost the smallest since that crop began to be marketed. The Liverpool cable reported %d advance and sent an Argentine cable noting that sowing the next wheat crop was interfered with by unfavorable weather. In the West the weather conditions were not right, rains and beavy storms being reported for Kansas and prospects for their extending eastward. The bull combination was too powerful to be disregarded and domestic markets went fring upward. Those Northwestern receipts held their own, 477 cars arriving at Minneapolis and Duluth, against 193 cars a year ago, but the old crop was not in it with the prospective badly short new crop.

The day's clearances from four ports in four and wheat were rather small also—equivalent to 205,000 bu. Nothing in the line of bear factors was regarded, but the markets suffered a relapse from the opening boom, as selling was heavy through longs realizing. The feeling was most decidedly

The wild opening and heavy advance in wheat did not disturb corn especially, nor did the stormy weather in the West. Receipts were almost too large, 808 cars arriving at Chicago, and prospects for further large receipts next week. Shipments from these markets were also large, the clearances from this country for week reaching 1,600,000

His body glided across the rail in front of the trailer, which was crowded with people bound downtown to work. The front and rear wheel passed over his body near the waist and almost cut him in two. His arms were also badly mangled.

The little fellow made no outcry, but the car was jolted with great force and the passengers were horror-stricken. The vio-tim was carried into the J. R. Webber Moulding Co.'s office on Cass avenue, near Twenty-first street, and he was able to tell Officer Kroner his name and address. A messenger was sent at once to his home, 1948 Cass avenue, to notify his mother.

Mrs. Scott ran to where her boy lay, and become unconscious while she was on her way to his side and he made no response to her wails and appeals. She was led back home by neighbors, who feared that the shock would overcome her.

Dr. Sorghan of 1508 North Twenty-third street was summoned and he said that the boy was beyond recovery.

He grew eloquently indignant in repelling the insinuation that his scheme was a speculative one, or that he was an interloper.

He said the committee could require any reasonable cash or bonded guarante and his company would within an hour place it in the hands of the City Treasurer. More than this, his company if recognized for by sees, would be glad to introduce itself in epublic by a cash donation of $19,000 to tornado sufferers.

ance was in keeping with the tale she told, and in consequence her husband, Myles Barlley, will remain in the Work-house six months for failure to pay the 3100 fine imposed on him by Judge Stephenson for wifebeating.

The Bartleys, father, mother and 6-months-old babe, live together at 1215 Carr street. Friday night when Myles returned from his day's work he was intoxicated and immediately proceeded to chastise his wife. When she appeared in court both eyes were blackened and badly swollen. Wrapped carefully in a paper in her pocket she had a great tuft of hair which her irate husband had pulled from her head.

The records show that Bartley was fined $500 on a similar charge last October.

John Sheehey was fined $10 for beating his wife. Sheehey is a laborer and lives at 1005 Collins street. Sheehey told the Court that when he got home Friday supper was not ready and his wife was lying on the kitchen floor drunk. This broke his heart, he said, and he "cut up some." He did not remember mistreating his wife, but the policeman who arrested him did.

OBJECTIONS TO ATTORNEY STARK

HIS OPPONENTS THINK THEY HAVE MADE OUT A CASE.

IDENTIFIED WITH FACTIONS.

The School Board Attorney Will Not Be Re-elected Unless He Can Win.a Hard Fight.

Next to the fact that eight members of the St. Louis School Board have to go to fail at Jefferson City on June 16, the School Directors are principally interested at present in the election of a School Board at torney.

ent in the election of a School Board attorney.

The election will be held at the regular meeting of the Board next Tuesday nightrUntil recently it promised to be without incident and the re-election of Charles B.
Stark seemed assured. The opposition to Stark was divided and he counted fourteen votes for his re-election.

In the last few days considerable opposition to Mr. Stark on several lines has arisen, and the election promises to be exciting.

arisen, and the election promises to be exciting.

The position of the School Board attorney is perhaps the most important in the Board. The attorney is frequently called upon to pass upon the legality of proposed appropriations. His advice in many cases decides the policy of the Board, especially in the matter of School Board elections. He must take care of public school interests in the matter of legislation. The School Board attorney is a valuable ally in factional fights, provided he is willing to espouse the cause of a faction.

The avowed candidates for the position besides Mr. Stark are Ford Smith and Frederick A. Wind. There is a dark horse in the field in the person of Charles T. Noland, who, with R. B. Haughton, brought the School Board ringsters up with a short turn and secured their sentence to jail.

short turn and secured their sentence is short turn and secured their sentence is short turn and secured their sentence is short turn and Frederick A. Wind. The former has Bus, Grawe and Koenig supporting him. Wind is supported by Landvogt, Kissner and Godfrey.

Stark is said to claim the votes of Collins, Sheehan, Brady, McClain, Penney, Matlack, Ulrich, Lacey—who is a relative—Spinning, Rebenack, Berg and Hequembourg. bourg.

He is also credited with the votes of Kell-eher and Cudmore, but these, with Vord-triede, are thought to be doubtful.

These circumstances are being exploited by persons opposed to Mr. Stark's re-election and they are also calling attention to Mr. Stark's affidavit filed in the contempt proceedings in which he tried to shoulder the blame attaching to the ringsters for their disobedience.

Another point made by Mr. Stark's opponents is his attempt to collect a $5,000 fee. additional to his large salary, from the board, for his efforts in securing favorable legislation for the board when the merchants' license tax enactment was gending in the State Legislature.

These circumstances, together with the fact that Mr. Stark advawn the liberal salary of School Board Attorney for six yy-ars, constitute the case against him.

His opponents are trying to ascertain what interest Col. Ed Butler can have in the election of a School Board attorney. It was stated Saturday that Col. Butler was using his influence in behalf of Mr. Stark.

The election of an attorney is the principal business to come before the board next Tuesday. Afterward the eight members who have been sentenced to jall will have to serve their ten days each at Jefferson City with the possible exception of Director Vordirlede. It was stated Saturday that a petition for clemency was also being circulated in behalf of Director Rebenack, but with Httle success.

Return to the order of the Supreme Court will be made on June 16, on which day the jail sentences will probably begin.

The recent meteorological disturbance in South St. Louis was not in it for destructiveness with the organized gang of aristocratic young vandals who are making life a burden for the Rev. J. S. Kirtley and the members of the congregation.

There is likely to be a split in the church management unless the pastor and the trustees can agree on some method of curbing the youngsters without calling on the metropolitan police department of St. Louis for aid.

Mrs. Willa Mazert Driven Nearly Naked Out of Her Tent.

Mrs. Willa Mazert told a pathetic story of abuse while securing clothes for her 7-year-old boy at the relief room in the Central Police Station.

husband, Frederick, had lived at 1921 Gratiot street, but the storm carried away the roof of that place and knocked one wall our so that they were compelled to seek shelter elsewhere.

Thursday they spent in the home of a neighbor, and Friday they got an army tent from relief headquarters.

It was pitched in the big hollow on the south side of Chouteau avenue near the end of the Twenty-first street viaduct.

The new home was no more than in place when Mazert began drinking. He had saved a few dollars from the ruin of their Gratiot street home and this he invested in whisky. When he came home to the little tent beneath which were sleeping his wife and little boy he was very drunk and very hungry. He had taken all the money away with him and there was nothing to eat about the place.

"This made him so mad" Mrs. Mazert

He had taken all the money away with him and there was nothing to eat about the place.

"This made him so mad," Mrs. Mazert said, "that he began beating me. I did not scream for fear I would attract attention and thus cause his arrest. But I could not defend myself and I didn't want to be murdered. So I broke away from him and with nothing on but my nightgown and in my bare feet I ran out of the tent.

"He chased me for a half hour through the tall, wet weeds, over and around the debris blown there by the storm, until I was so weak I thought I would fall. But I had the advantage of him, because he was drunk and now and then he would stumble and fall and then I could get farther from him.

"Finally he fell and lay still for a long time. I approached him. He jumped up, ran at me and when he caught me beat me again. Finally he left me lying in the grass, unable to move. Since then I have not seen unable to move. Since then I have not seen him. I don't know how long I was there, but it was a long time before my boy found me and then he called a neighbor and I was taken care of.
"My body is covered with bruises from the beating."

Mrs. Mazert limped out of the room with her boy, each carrying a bundle of clothes donated to the storm sufferers by the char-itable.

charter recently issued when the St. Louis and the Commercial banks were about to consolidate.

After the charter was granted the St. Louis National refused to go further in the consolidation because Mr. Nichols of the Commercial showed a disposition to run affairs to suit himself.

Finding themselves with a charter on hand the directors of the Commercial proceeded to make use of it by organising ceeded to make use of it by organising an antional bank among themselves and their stockholders. Much opposition to the plan was found at first to exist among some of the heavy stockholders, but it is understood that these differences have been settled.

The new bank will have $50,000 more capital and the same surplus as of old. This additional money has largely been subscribed among the present holders of stock.

MANUFACTURES IN JAPAN.

Ex-Census Superintendent Porte Talks of Oriental Labor.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 6.-Robert P. Porter, superintendent of the last cen-sus returns, returned yesterday from Ja-pan, where he has been since March. sus returns, returned yesterday from Japan, where he has been since March.

Said he. "I am satisfied, after looking over the industral situation, that Japan has become an important factor in the commerce of the world. I visited more than 200 mills, factories and shops, covering every important industry. The weaving or spinning of textiles constitutes the most important industry. There are fully a million weavers returned in the census, 250,000 of whom are females. This tremendous facts has enabled Japan not only to supply nearly all her own wants, but to swell her textile exports from $551,590 in 1885 to $22,177,525 in 1895.

"In the investigation of the silk industry I found the current wages for female weavers from 3 to 4 cents per day for young girls to 10 and 15 cents for expert weavers. I also paid particular attention to cotton spinning and weaving. I see no reason why the exports of cotton to India and Chinawill not reach $50,000,000 before another decade. The total value of the textile industry of Japan may reach nearly $100,000,000 this year.

"I found children of 7 and 8 working for a cent a day at rug-making, and 4 to 6 cents a day were current wages for a day of twelve to fourteen hours."

Speaking of the foreign trade, the student of figures says: "Japan's foreign trade has goite from $78,000,000 in 1855 to $296,000,000 in 1896, which is nearly half the pacific trade. In my opinion it is sure to increase as Japan secures more and more of the Assatic markets."

MORGAN'S RESOLUTION.

MORGAN'S RESOLUTION.

It Was Discused in the Senato Behind WASHINGTON, D. C., June 6.-The dis cussion in the Senate behind closed door yesterday was devoted entirely to the Cu-ban question, and the greater part of the time was consumed by Senator Morgan in the continuation of his speech in open ses sion.

Senators Sherman and Lodge made a brief explanation as to their visit to the White House, and their conference with the President, saying they had gone there as a subcommittee of the Foreign Relations Committee. They expressed the opinion as a result of the interview that the Executive was using all due vigilance in the protection of the rights of American citizens and said that while it might be well enough for Congress to put forth its opinion in regard to the situation in Cuba, in the shape of a joint resolution, there was little probability of getting such a resolution, through without a prolonged debate, which, in view of the general desire for early adjournment, could not be had.

The Morgan resolution went to the calendar.
